we will find \vec{EB} doing $\vec{EB} = \vec{EA} + \vec{AB}$ the first carrier is directed, because we know \vec{AE} , and this is only the same carrier in the opposite direction. So, we get: now we need \vec{AB} . b is the central point of ac (given in the question.) we must have that $\vec{AB} = \frac{1}{2} \vec{AC}$. I'm sorry. DC are parallel, then one must be one multiple of the other. Well, if we multiply \vec{EB} for 2 then, We have shown that $2\vec{EB} = \vec{DC}$, so the two lines must be parallel. The transformations change the size or position of the forms. Congruent forms are identical, but can be reflected, rotated or translated. Scale factors can increase or decrease the size of a form. This page lists the recommended resources for teaching pure mathematics in the year 12 (based on level specification A 2017), classified by topic. Huge thanks to all individuals and organizations that share educational resources. The best results (indexes and surveys) [Equations and inequality simultaneous] | Quadratica | Proof | Graphs | Graphi lineari | Geometry | Differentiation | Factor Theorem | Logs and Exponentials | Binomial Expansion | Trigonometry | Vectors | Revision Geometria Coordinatamei trig ratios trig graphs trig identities and equations for legacy resources, see my page C1/C2 and page C3/C4. if you find broken links, send an email to sourceaholic@gmail.com regularly uploads resources I created for 30 years as a teacher. most of these are mathematics, but there are some ICT/Computing and tutor time activities. all resources are mine and are not available from third parties. resources have been modified over time and I have had many happy and poor lessons of successful and happy students. at the end of 2017 the tes announced that I was the newest downloaded author and in 2018 were added another 2 million to the count. Last Update December 6, 2018 this carefully selected collection of exam questions has fully processed solutions designed for students to go through at home, saving valuable time in class. click . tes.com/. exam question practices. to download fill out questions for more than 50 other topics. usually print these questions as an a5 pamphlet and release them in class or give them as tasks. I also make them available to a student who wants to do independent study focused on a topic. -- Self you like this resource, then please vote and/or leave a comment..
