There are rules for games, social clubs, sports and adults at work. There are also rules imposed by morality and custom that play an important role in telling us what we should and should not do. However, some rules -- those made by the state or tribunals -- are called "laws". 7 Introduction... Laws resemble morality because they are designedcontrol or alter our behavior. But unlike the rules of morality, the laws are applied by the courts; If you break a law - if you like that law or not -- you can be forced to pay a fine, pay damage, or go to jail. 8 Sources of law Constitution Legislation - Customs statute judicial decisions treated Other written sources of legal scholars edited by a king / ruler; Sharia Law 9 different types of laws Public law, criminal law, criminal law, criminal law, trust law, civil law, family law, corporate law, employment law, admiral law, aviation law, bankruptcy law and consumer law etc. 10 Constitution A Constitution is the skeleton of laws for the country It is a series of fundamental principles or precedents established according to which a state or other organization is governed 11 History of the Constitution The Government of India Law, 1935 The Constitution of 1956 The Constitution of 1962 The Constitution of 1973 12 Commonwealth The Commonwealth of Nations, commonly known as the Commonwealth (formerly British Commonwealth) 13 Introduction to the Business Law includes all laws that dictate how to form and manage an activity. This includes all laws that govern how to start, buy, manage and sell any kind of business. Corporate laws establish the rules that all companies should follow. 14 Introduction... A reasonable businessman will generally be familiar with business laws and know when to look for advice from a lawyer.
