Stop form submit jsp

a great way to improve the user experience of your website is to validate and submit forms without a page update. in this tutorial, I will show you how easy it is to do just this—valid and submit a contact form without page update using jquery! Let's start. what we are building in this example, we have a simple contact form with name, email and phone number. the module sends all fields to a php script without any page update, using native jquery functions. 1. build the html module let's take a look at our html markup. we start with our basic html module:
