PDFshift-schedule-design.comMounting menuSize: 95 KBDownloadIndustries Templatezipschedules.comDetailsFile FormatSize: 12 KBDownloadIndustries Using monthly travel times Due to the nature of the working processes involved in these industries, they need to follow a monthly schedule of shifts to meet the working requirements in their field of expertise: The hotel and resort industries have travel times, especially for their front-line operations, house maintenance and customer service. Most of the hotels are open all day hours for them to be able to meet the needs of their guests, especially those who need late check-in and check out at night or too early in the morning. Hospitals and other medical facilities also need to follow a round schedule as emergencies can come at any time of the day and the medical facility must ensure that there are professionals who address the needs of their patients. The BPO industry follows a schedule of shifts mainly because most operations in a specific position meet the needs of customers who are in other parts of the world where time differences can be applied within the day of operations. In addition to the industries mentioned above, there are still other industries using a monthly schedule of shifts for their operations.
