Anniversary wish for sister

Etsy Having siblings you're close with is like having built-in best friends your whole life, so it's only fair that when the holidays roll around, your sister deserves the best. And no, the best doesn't have to be exorbitantly expensive. The most cherished gifts are ones that feel personal and thoughtful, so as long as you're shopping for things you know your sister (or sisters!) will love, you're doing great. Customized pieces—whether that's jewelry, art, family keepsakes, or even everyday household essentials—are always a good idea, as are products that play to your sister's interests like art, music, astrology, and beyond. Not to mention, you really can't go wrong with some spa-at-home treats, either. If you're looking for the perfect gift to get your sister this year, look no further—this list has you covered, with plenty of options at every price point. (In fact, half of the gift ideas seen here are $25 and under!) The best present for our 85th year: to have all these hopes and dreams for families come true by the time Parents turns 100! Credit: Jenny Risher Parents is turning 85! To celebrate, we're making wishes that will benefit children and families everywhere. Would you help make our wishes come true? Please advocate for one or more of our causes, and add a wish or two of your own.
